Customer Problem Statement Template

Each problem statement is constructed using the structured template: I am (Customer) / I'm trying to / But / Because / Which makes me feel. This approach ensures empathy-driven problem definition rooted in real user pain points for the PetPaws platform.

PS #	I am (Customer)	I am trying to...	But...	Because...	Which makes me feel...
PS-1	Ravi, a first-time dog owner	Find nutritious, age-appropriate food and essential accessories for my new Labrador puppy	General e-commerce sites mix pet products with thousands of irrelevant categories	There is no dedicated, trustworthy pet store with pet-type filters and breed-specific product recommendations	Overwhelmed, frustrated, and anxious about choosing the wrong products for my pet
PS-2	Priya, an experienced cat owner	Purchase health supplements and grooming products for my cat with verified quality assurance	I cannot trust product reviews on generic platforms since buyers may not actually own pets	There is no 'Verified Pet Purchase' badge or mechanism to confirm the reviewer owns the same type of pet	Uncertain and distrustful of product ratings, leading to poor purchasing decisions
PS-3	Arjun, a busy professional with a pet bird	Quickly reorder bird food and cage accessories without	Existing platforms do not allow filtering by specific pet type (e.g.,	No platform provides a streamlined, pet-type-specific shopping experience with	Time-pressured and forced to waste time on platforms not designed for my needs

		navigating complex multi-category sites	'Bird') or show irrelevant results	saved carts and wishlists
PS-4	Meena, a pet store admin manager	Monitor product stock levels, track order fulfillment, and view monthly sales analytics in real time	Existing admin tools are not purpose-built for pet stores and require manual tracking in spreadsheets	No integrated admin dashboard exists that combines pet product CRUD, order status management, and low-stock alerts	Stressed, inefficient, and at risk of overselling out-of-stock products to customers
